P-COC POINTS

APRIL 2022 || VOLUME 3 NUMBER 4

ARAB AMERICAN HERITAGE MONTH

The P-CoC family proudly celebrates contributions made by Arab Americans who have long made outsized contributions to American society. With an estimated 2.1 million people in the United States, our organization recognizes the importance of these thriving and exemplary citizens as they help us enrich the beautiful diversity in our communities.

Among many exemplary Arab American individuals, we would like to acknowledge Dr. Farouk El-Baz whose influence deserves our most respectful applause: As a geologist he conducted field investigations in every desert on earth and searched for ground water in arid lands using space images. He's credited with discovering groundwater resources in Egypt, Oman, Somalia, Sudan and the United Arab Emirates.

Born in Egypt, El-Baz served as NASA's lead geologist for the Apollo space program from 1967 to 1972. Following that, he launched the Center for Earth and Planetary Studies at the National Air and Space Museum. He went on to serve as science adviser to Anwar Sadat, then the president of Egypt. Today, Professor El-Baz is director of the Center for Sensing at Boston University.

Every little bit counts. Click here to donate or use the gofundme below.
